The pages of our October newsletter are absolutely packed with opportunities to learn, reflect, celebrate, and engage. We hope you plan to visit the amazing new exhibit Mark My Words, meet the artists at the reception on Saturday October 8, learn a new skill in one of our workshops, and support local artists by purchasing original pieces in our member gallery and gift shop. Spend some time in these pages, and plan your next trip to CAC! We always look forward to seeing you here.

The exhibit is on view October 3–November 29, 2022, with an artist reception on Saturday, October 8, from 11 AM–2 PM. CAC is also offering additional programming connected to this exhibition. On November 4, from 6–8 PM, CAC is holding a Print Workshop where Amos Paul Kennedy, Jr. will discuss his letterpress works and participants will make their own small prints using a tabletop press. Kennedy will also give an Artist Talk on Saturday, November 5, at 11 AM. The following week CAC will host a Free Family Art Day, Saturday, November 12 from 10 AM–2 PM. All exhibitions are free and open to the public.

Additional exhibiting artists are Katie Armentrout, Rachel Bard, Matthew Barron, Dan Breen, Terrence Chouinard, Georgia Geis, Corey Hagelberg, Laurel IZard, Olivia Jobbe, Connie Kassal, George Kassal, Casey King, Kelly Massei, Lindsay Mathers, Mythos Publications, Colleen Newquist, Briana Olivares, Josh Olsen, Ramiro Rodriguez, Ida Short, Kelsey Simpson, Eric, Isis, Drake Spruth, Jewlya Sturtevant, Suzy Vance, VU Creative Writing students, and Kay Westhues.

Kennedy is one of the most important letterpress printers working today. His posters champion a proverb, poem, or call-to-action that reflects contemporary social concerns, community health, power, race, and identity. He runs pieces through his letterpress multiple times to layer type and text in vibrant colors and patterns. While this process creates unique posters, Kennedy's love of printing is founded in creating editions and multiples for accessibility and distribution.

Kennedy's practice thrives in community, and he is always eager to engage others in conversation and making. He is generous with his knowledge and time and conducts educational and collaborative workshops across the country. After 40 years as a System Analyst with AT&T, Kennedy earned his MFA from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and later taught graphic design at the Henry Radford Hope School of Fine Arts at Indiana University Bloomington. He has exhibited extensively and is included in many museum and library collections, including the Museum of Modern Art and the Library of Congress.

This exhibition and programming are supported in part by Valparaiso University's Cultural Arts Committee, Communication and Visual Arts Department, English Department, and Office of Multicultural Programs.

Youth Arts Outreach Program Expanded!

In September, CAC's 25-week Youth Arts Outreach Program began at the Duneland Boys & Girls Club and YMCA. During this 5-week session, artists explore the topic of Art, Animals, and Ecosystems.

With influences from STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Art, and Math) and Art History, CAC teaching artists Brian Dortmund and Katie Wiley guided students as they invented their own creatures, created collage animals, and painted watercolor landscapes.

The Youth Arts Outreach Program supports CAC's mission of creating accessible, enriching arts programming for our community. Special thanks to our partners at Boys & Girls Club, the YMCA, and all supporters who make this outreach program possible.

TAG! Teen Arts Group

This past month, Teen Arts Group (TAG) members enjoyed a private artist talk + workshop with exhibiting artist Corey Hagelberg. Corey walked members through his exhibit at the Center as they discussed his work as a local NWI artist and activist. Then, members had the special opportunity to practice the woodcut process and pull their own prints. Many thanks to Corey for working with TAG!

This month, TAG artists will be creating the annual edition of the TAG zine and attending the Pencil Paper Scissors Art Market in Valparaiso to sell their own prints, drawings, and handmade items.

Next TAG Meeting at CAC:
Wednesday, October 12, 2022 - 4:30–6:30 PM

CAC's Teen Arts Group (TAG) is a free monthly program for passionate teen artists interested in pursuing professional arts experiences and strengthening their own visual art practices. TAG members learn from one another as well as professional artists, explore area and Chicago museums and galleries, and work on individual portfolio development. TAG also offers access to various community engagement and exhibition opportunities.

Interested artists can contact programs@chestertonart.org.
